

SIUS

SIUS since many years worldwide the leading producer of electronic scoring systems for sport, military and police. For more than 50 years the name SIUS stands for quality in the world of international shooting.

Since 1945, when the Swiss company SIUS designs the first visual-acoustic target signalling systems, it has had a single aim: to display results to shooters as rapidly and as accurately as possible. Today, through continuous research and development, SIUS is the global market leader in electronic target systems, exporting its products and services to more than seventy countries.